Kiwanians Told Indian's Opinion

"Russia's thrusts into Eastern and Central Europe are merely camouflage during America's election year and will end

Such was the frank opinion expressed Monday night to Circleville Kiwanis Club by Nilhanthe Chavre, a United Nations delegate from India, who is to leave next Fall as a special envoy to the Soviet Union, replacing Mme. Nehru, wife of Prime Minister Pandit Nehru.

Chavre declared that "Russia does not want more territory in Europe, Russia does not want India, Russia does not want the Dardanelles, Russia does not want Greece."

The speaker, who spent several years as an Indian legation aide to Moscow prior to World War II, said that the Russians are merely using the current presidential year in America to cover up her own plans for the

Exchange Of Notes Bared By Moscow

LONDON, May 11-Russia announced today acceptance of a United States suggestion for discussions aimed at settling differences between the two powers.

The acceptance was announced by the Moscow radio which reported an exchange of notes between American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Smith presented the American proposal a week ago and Molotov replied favorably on Sunday. In Washington, diplomatic officials expressed belief that an early conference designed to end the "cold war" between the United States and Russia is a virtual certainty.

THERE IS a lesser degree of shame for 100 other farmers who had to give their entire crop to meet collection quotas and therefore, for the first time in village history, had to apply to buy rationed food.

The farmers blame high quotas on the failure of their fellows and say the whole scrap land reform program is threatened with failure unless quotas and taxes are eased. E. H. Davis, chief of the U. S. Army's agricultural division, pointed out that last year the government paid farmers 55 billion yen for the rice it took through forced collections.

Farmers paid a total of 30 billion yen back to the government in income taxes. They paid another 30 billion yen to prefectural and village governments in taxes, making a tax bill of five billion yen above legal rice income.

Farmers earned another ten billion, three hundred million yen from sale of potatoes, sweet potatoes, barley and wheat to the government at legal prices.

They also made unknown amounts from the sale of produce on the black market.

THE JAPANESE yen is equivalent to two cents U.S. currency at the official rate.

They might be an hour or more roaming around. They might end up in the guest house to look over the books. No, John would not be likely to notice. He was too absorbed in his own affairs.

Alec? Alec wouldn't give her a thought. If he did, it would only be a passing, casual one.

Julia, then? Heavens! Julia was the most unsuspicious person in the world. Any tale would do for Julia. Helen's chains had come off or broken. She had had to stop and get them fixed. Or she had had a flat. Or she had stopped at the drug store for a hot chocolate. Anything at all! Julia would never suspect a thing. Nor would Anne. Anne simply couldn't see or think past Alec at this point.

All right, then. What might at him and saw him slumped in ahead of him as if he had forgotten her existence. A small frenzy of anger at his indiffeernce took hold of her which she tried not to let sound in her voice.

"Do you really have to catch this next bus?"

He turned his head and she felt his eyes on her. For a moment he made no reply, then, with a chuckle, he said, "It would be cold just sitting and making a little love, wouldn't it?"

A New Name for a PUBLIC SERVICE

With the approval of its stockholders, the name of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation has been changed to

THE COLUMBIA GAS, SYSTEM, INC.

Since the Corporation divested itself of its electrical properties under the provisions of the Public Utilities Holding Company Act, the new name becomes more descriptive of the System's functions in public service.

The Corporation and its operating subsidiaries have long been known, unofficially, as the COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM. Now, with the formal approval at the Annual Stockholders Meeting on April 29th at Wilmington, Delaware, the new corporate title becomes official.

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM serves 1,000,000 homes, businesses and industries with natural gas directly through its own distribution lines, and another 800,000 customers through wholesale deliveries to other utilities in cities such as Washington, D. C., Cincinnati and Dayton, Ohio. Last year the System delivered 231 billion cubic feet of gas through some 31,000 miles of transmission and distribution lines. The System is even now preparing to deliver by 1950 in excess of 300 billion cubic feet of natural gas annually.

(To Be Continued)

Abundance of haddock has declined severely in the past three years, research on the north Atlantic fishing banks has demonstrated. This decline is due in part to the relative failure of the 1941, 1942 and 1943 classes. The Fish and Wildlife service of the U. S. Department of the Interior recommends a course of restoration of haddock stocks by restricting the mesh of fishing gear to sizes that will protect the young, immature fish.

With the approval of its stockholders, the name of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation has been changed to

THE COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM, INC.

Since the Corporation divested itself of its electrical properties under the provisions of the Public Utilities Holding Company Act, the new name becomes more descriptive of the System's functions in public service.

The Corporation and its operating subsidiaries have long been known, unofficially, as the COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM. Now, with the formal approval at the Annual Stockholders Meeting on April 29th at Wilmington, Delaware, the new corporate title becomes official.

the collar that outlives the shirt

Up to this very moment, the collar was a shirt's chief weak-spot. And when it started to fray and shred, the whole shirt became of little use to you. Now, thanks to the Wear-Loom Collar and its tough, 2-ply yarns - that weak-spot is a strong-spot. This collar is so sturdy, so fray-resistant — it actually outlives

Here is a simple idea in action: that if a shirt is guaranteed, it must be good. Besides the Wear-Loom Collar, these Fruit of the Loom whites have a luxurious kind of quality. They're Sanforized-shrunk, smoothly finished, and tailored with a trim and talented hand. America's top value shirts-with
